

The March class had more tests than the others and a lot of info to take in. They still managed very well. <redacted> I didn't realize I was training the very crew I would be supervising. I was offered the position towards the end of March. Gladly accepted! Everyone figured it out one night... a big group @ Red Robin. Duty Rosters had come out that day and my name was gone. It was going to be tough work ahead. But I had help. Not to mention some great staff to look out for. <redacted>
